

Balancing interests and potential harms within family Pods

Michiel Fierens (KU Leuven)

Table of contents

- Different data protection interests
 - Individual
 - Collective
- Different protection against risks and harms
 - Data
 - Knowledge

Traditional foundation of data protection

Right to be left alone 1890

Arbitrary interference regarding privacy, family or home

Self-determination

Legislative push towards collective dimension?

Data Spaces (European Health Data Space)

Data Act

Data Governance Act

Digital Markets Act

Balancing intertwined interests

GDPR principles and rights

- Data minimisation
- Accuracy
- Data portability

Trade-offs should be explicit

Interconnectedness

Data narrative

Personal data as input

Nature of data as risk

One-on-one relationships

Knowledge narrative

Knowledge as output

What you do with the data

Distributed set of linked data

Narrow, individual risks and harms

Broader, pluralistic risks and harms

Mitigating risks and harms

TECHNICAL

Collective agency

Data curation

LEGAL

Legitimate interest

Adverse impact

Well-defined group

Questions?

michiel.fierens@kuleuven.be

FLANDERS

<https://solidlab.be>

Vlaamse
overheid

DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMY
SCIENCE & INNOVATION

Gefinancierd door
de Europese Unie

NextGenerationEU