

The Human Side of Media at the Edge

Dr. Neelima Sailaja
Horizon Digital Economy Hub
University of Nottingham

@neelimasunil

The Humans: Users

- Need for improved media experience
 - Appreciation of personalisation
 - Need for quick and simple interactions
 - Support for social viewing
- Mistrust associated with personal data exchange
 - Privacy issues and fear
 - Lack of trust in the context of the home
 - Need for better legibility and control

The Humans: Makers

Value

Trust

The Humans: Makers

Legal

Social

Ethical

The Humans: Makers

Legal

Social

Ethical

Technological

Anonymisation, data minimisation, encryption etc.

Use of cohorts

Transparency

Understand audiences to help craft future content

Providing meaningful feedback

Research & Development

Living Room of the Future

Researching the impact of a hyper-personalised and multi-sensory living room of the future.

We are researching the impact of a hyper-personalised and multi-sensory living room of the future. Creating an immersive experience that uses data to personalise media to people delivered through multiple devices, we are interested in understanding the impact of using this data within a group context.

Project from 2018 - present

Research & Development

Living Room of the Future

Researching the impact of a hyper-personalised and multi-sensory living room of the future.

We are researching the impact of a hyper-personalised and multi-sensory living room of the future. Creating an immersive experience that uses data to personalise media to people delivered through multiple devices, we are interested in understanding the impact of using this data within a group context.

Project from 2018 - present

Adoption Challenges

Data legibility

Privacy concerns and potential dystopias

Agency and control

The social need for customisation

Value trade-off

Trust

BBC's Cross Media Profiler

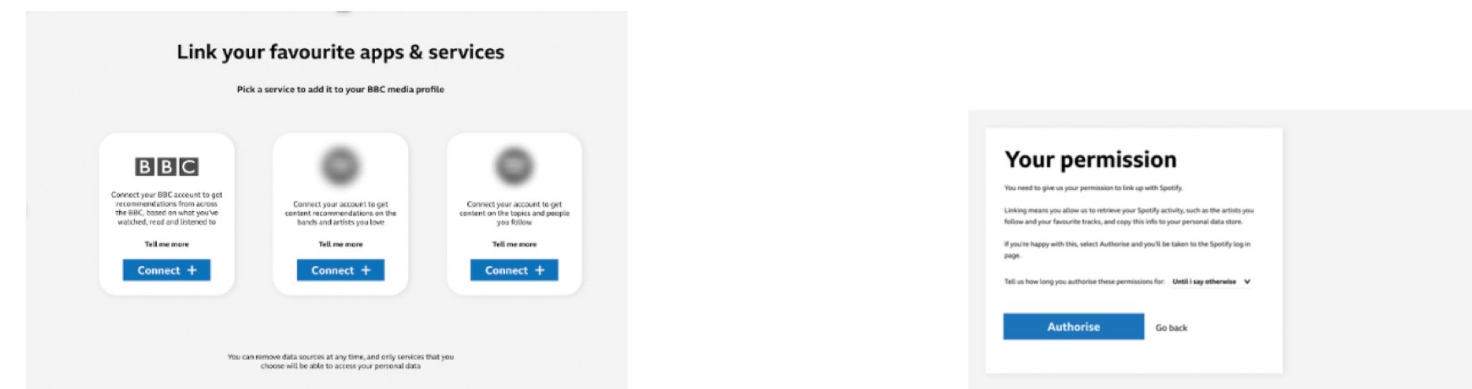

Figure 2: (a) Screen 3 : The data linking page that allows the user to choose which applications to connect to and import data from, for linking data. (b) Screen 4 : The permissions page that summarises the data flows being consented to. [Indicative designs for research purposes only] ©BBC R&D

Figure 3: (a) Screen 5 : The media profile that allows for granular data control. (b) Screen 6 : The resulting sample recommendations page. [Indicative designs for research purposes only] ©BBC R&D

BBC's Cross Media Profiler

- Explicit Leverage of Privacy Preserving Measures
- Provision of Granular Detail around Data and its Flows
- Contextualisation of the Data Processes within the Experience
- Control that is Reflective of Real World Sensitivities
- Increasing the Efficacy of the Consent Page

—

A Caravan

@neelimasunil

Thank You

neelima.sailaja@nottingham.ac.uk

@neelimasunil